Dear Dave:

A short note of congratulations on the continued success of Pro-Liquitech; it's amazing what a little risk, self confidence, professionalism and hard work can do.....

Mixing equal parts of creative and intuitive 'spark', consumer/product insight, benchtop development expertise and a truly discriminating palate have rewarded you with a growing business and client base; a formulation that many people attempt to copy but great difficulty executing. At a time when many of the leading food and beverage companies are clamoring for the next big HIT; I'm sure Pro-Liquitech will have an opportunity participate in their initiatives.

Wishing you peace, prosperity and a load of new product ideas.

Best regards,
