Pro-Liquitech
10801 Electron Dr.
Louisville, KY 40299

I would like to commend Pro-Liquitech for its outstanding efforts during the past 3½ years. While there have been many instances that Pro-Liquitech demonstrated its commitment to us as a customer, I always go back to when Pro-Liquitech helped save our business.

Our business was on the brink of collapse. Our newly launched product was failing on retail shelves across the country and was being returned because of flavor instability. It was the Christmas and New Years holidays and we needed to reformulate our product immediately. We searched high and low for consultants and flavor companies, anybody who could help fix our problem. They were all on holiday.

It was during this time that we began our relationship with Pro-Liquitech. Just the fact that Pro-Liquitech was able to fix our product stability problems is enough to win our respect and admiration. To have done it in less than 2 months during a time when most other businesses are on vacation was truly incredible. Pro-Liquitech's dedication and commitment to its customers helped save our business.

Sincerely,
